

PORTSMOUTH ADVERTISEMENTS AND TELEGRAPH CONTINUED—BERKLEY NEWS.

THIS IS BAD NEWS.

If This Order Goes Into Effect This Navy Yard Will Feel It Badly.

Secretary Long yesterday issued orders which will have the effect of suspending at once work on a large number of ships. Among the vessels to be abandoned are the Alvarado, Sandoval and Raleigh, at the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy-yard; the Olympia, Peoria, Sterling, Toledo and Vicksburg, at the Boston navy-yard; the Columbia, Minneapolis, Miantonomah and Panther, at the League Island navy-yard; the Apache, Dorethea, Portuene, Frolic, Hannibal, Hawk, San Francisco and Terror, at Portsmouth, Va., and the Alert, Boston and Badger, at Mare Island. Repair work will continue on the following vessels:

At the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy-yard, the Piscataqua and Potomac; at the Boston navy-yard, the Machias and Chesapeake; at the League Island navy-yard, the Dixie; at the Portsmouth, (Va.) navy-yard, the Scorpion, Puritan, Newport and Hiss; at the Mare Island navy-yard, the Solace. The work at the New York navy-yard is not included in the new schedule which has just been arranged. No orders will be issued in regard to that yard for a week or two.

The reason for this action on the part of Secretary Long is said to be the necessity to avoid a deficiency next year of the present rate of money spending is continued. Already half of the liberal appropriation last made for this work has been spent.

Admiral Barker was seen yesterday concerning the above, but had no information to impart, he knowing nothing whatever in relation thereto.

OUR BOYS WIN A GREAT GAME

Portsmouth's Foot-ball Team Wins from Washington's Crack Eleven.

TWELVE TO NOTHING

Portsmouth Feels Proud of the Young Men Who Represent Her on the Gridiron—Manager Gerke and Captain Parrish Enthusiastic Over the Result—Ladies Take a Great Interest in the Game and Wear Conspicuously the Colors of the Team.

The Washingtonians came down like a work for the fray. His cohorts all gleaming in maroon and gray. And the sheen of their shirts was like the stars in heaven. But they couldn't do a thing with the Portsmouth eleven. —Byron.

In high spirits and good condition, the Portsmouth team arrived in this city this morning. They were confident of victory, but they did not know what they had to go up against. The two teams were very evenly matched in weight, but those Washington men couldn't push, and Portsmouth gained through center every time they tried. Almost the whole game was won at Washington's territory, and with Portsmouth in possession of the ball; yet, the place with which the Washingtonians worked, kept Portsmouth from at any time making great gains.

The game was called at 3:45. Washington kicked off, and the ball was kicked to Portsmouth. Washington kicked off for Washington, sending the ball to within three yards of Portsmouth's goal-post. Dashiels catches it and clears half the field before downed.

Both teams line up for the first scrimmage. Portsmouth has the ball. Peckham goes around right end, and gains six yards. Then Langhorn attempts left end, but does not gain. Langhorn repeats his attempt around left end and gains 12 yards. Ball outside, and brought in 15 yards. Peckham carries four yards around right end. Dashiels through center two yards. Peckham goes around right end for another gain, and Dashiels through center twice for three yards gain each time. Peckham attempts right end, fumbles the ball and loses one yard, but keeps the ball. Peckham this time makes a gain of seven yards around right end, and is downed within one yard of Washington's goal. Peckham goes through center and makes the first touch-down, between the goal-posts, for Portsmouth without once losing the ball. Langhorn kicks the ball. Washington kicks off. Langhorn catches the ball and makes 10 yards gain before downed. Dashiels goes through center twice, gaining two and four yards. Peckham goes through left tackle, where 220-pound Herbert opens a road for him, allowing a gain of 20 yards. This was the greatest play of the game, the features of the play being the splendid interference of Capt. Parrish and little Dick Herbert, and the way in which Peckham, with the ball, stood up under the weight that was on him.

Langhorn then takes the ball around left end for a gain of one yard. Peckham attempts right end, but loses the ball on a fumble. Washington gets the ball, but without gain. They attempt center, but do not gain. O'Connor goes through the line and gets ball as it is being passed. Washington gets five yards gain. This was the only gain made by the Washingtonians during the first half, except the following play, when full-back charged center and butted the ball over the whole line, by which they gained three yards, but lost the ball. Langhorn goes around left end and Peckham goes around right end and gains five and three yards. Left tackle takes ball through right tackle for gain of two yards. Langhorn goes around left end for two yards and then repeats the attempt without gain. Referee's whistle sounds for the end of the first half; time 20 minutes. Score, 6 to 0.

After a 10 minute intermission, the men again take the field. Portsmouth has the ball with the wind in their faces. Langhorn sends the ball flying for a kick-off and Washington makes only 12 yards before downed. Brewer takes the ball around left end and gains 2 yards. Ross attempts right end and loses 24 yards. Third down with 64 to gain. Weaver falls back for a kick, when Herbert gets through and tackles before the kick is made. Weaver loses 4 yards and the ball goes over. Peckham goes around right end, gaining 10 yards, and Dashiell through center twice for gains of 1 and 12 yards. Third down with 24 yards to gain. Peckham goes around right end and gains 5 yards. Ball is carried over the line and is brought back onto the field. Peckham goes around right end and gains 1 yard, but Portsmouth makes an offside play and loses 5 yards and the ball goes over to Washington.

Weaver again tries making center and butting the ball over, gaining 4 yards and retaining the ball. Washington attempts center, but they had a wall against a stone wall. They make no gain. Weaver rushes center and puts ball over, gaining 4 yards, but loses the ball.

Langhorn goes around left end, gaining only 1 yard. Dashiell goes at center, but does not gain. Washington putting up a stubborn resistance. Third down with 4 yards to gain, but Peckham next takes the ball around right end for a gain of 5 yards and through center for a gain of 2 yards. Within 3 yards of the goal Dashiell goes through center for a gain of yards and repeats it, making the second touch-down for Portsmouth. Dashiell's touch-down was made only 8 yards from the end line, so that it was a difficult task to kick a goal for Portsmouth. Langhorn, however, drove the ball between the posts and over the rope, making the score 12 to 0, with only 5 minutes to play.

Washington kicks off, but ball goes out. At the second kick-off Langhorn gets the ball and makes 20 yard run. With repeated gains around right and left ends and through center and Peckham carries the ball to within 25 yards of Washington's goal, when time is called. Score, 12 to 0.

Second half, 15 minutes. Following is the line-up:

Center.....	Stewart
Left Guard.....	McConville
Right Guard.....	McGargan
Left Tackle.....	Bawley
Right Tackle.....	Snell
Left End.....	Shaw
Right End.....	Shaw
Full Back.....	Ross
Half Back.....	Weaver
Quarter Back.....	Reddington
Line Backer.....	Umble
Line Backer.....	Umble

It was a nicely-played game, and lacking only in interest, as after the first two or three plays it was hardly questionable as to who would win. The play in which the Portsmouth men played inspired many of the most enthusiastic supporters and showed that they have one of the first teams in the country. They have two games scheduled to be played here during the coming week. The University of Maryland will be here on Thursday and the Baltimore Medical College Saturday. Both of these are strong teams and will give Portsmouth a harder struggle than they have yet had.

BERKLEY NEWS AND ADVERTISEMENTS

A NEW INDUSTRY

A New Knitting Mill That Will Employ Fifty People.

Building Equipped With the Latest Improved Machinery, Heating Apparatus and Lighting Appliances—The Christian Endeavor Meeting This Afternoon—Personal.

Another acquisition to the manufacturing and industrial growth of Berkley will be effected when the Berkley Knitting Mills, recently incorporated, begin operations, which are contemplated being started in a few days.

The plant has been equipped with the latest improved machinery for the production of ribbed knit underwear in the cotton and mixed fabrics, will have a production of over 200 dozen or 2,400 finished garments per day. This company will give employment to about 50 operators, mostly girls from 14 to 16 years of age. The mills will begin operations with what machinery has up to the present been installed, as a demand for their product will necessitate an immediate output, the full complement of machinery being added as fast as received.

The building has been equipped with the most modern and convenient heating and lighting appliances, and is also equipped with fire protection in event of conflagration.

The yarn used by these mills will be of the finest grade of quality and texture, and, as stated by the manager, the cloth manufactured by them will compete with any mill in the country, both as regards quality and workmanship.

This industry will manufacture an entirely different class of goods from the product of other knitting mills of this section. Their goods will be marketed through the West and North and in the greater portion of the Southern States.

The company is composed of local capital, and has for its manager Mr. W. L. Baile, Jr., a gentleman who has had extensive experience in the manufacture of underwear and well known for his business capacity.

Remember Mr. H. L. West, the stand-by shoe dealer, when a pair of shoes is needed. He has the largest stock ever displayed in the town. One does not have to go to Norfolk to get a particular style. It can be found in his stock at a price that cannot be under sold.
